Ganesh Mohan
MD, Bajaj Finserv AMC

Dear All,

As we reflect on the year gone by, I am pleased to share with you our journey, achievements, and outlook as Bajaj Finserv AMC continues to strengthen its position in the Mutual Fund industry.

From January to October end, the mark-to-market* growth stood at 4% , while the Mutual Fund industry as grew by 14%. This divergence highlights the pace at which the industry is expanding and the growing environment in which we operate. The Mutual Fund market is growing faster than expected and has already reached an AUM of ₹79.9 lakh crore as of October , 2025. This scale underscores the immense potential of the industry and the responsibility we carry to deliver differentiated value to our investors and distributors.

At Bajaj Finserv AMC, our progress this year has been anchored on three major pillars that define our identity and strategy:

Ownership of Behavioural Finance through INQUBE- We are the first and only player in the industry to own this timeless concept in investing. INQUBE has allowed us to bring behavioural insights into portfolio construction and investor engagement.

Differentiated Product Strategy- Our focus on Megatrends and Moat investing has proven to be a distinct edge in fund management. By identifying long-term structural themes and companies with sustainable competitive advantages, we have been able to craft products that stand apart in a crowded marketplace.

Leveraging Technology to Drive Outperformance- Innovation has been at the heart of our journey. We have built industry-first propositions such as Savings+, Empower, and WhatsApp-enabled transaction journeys, which have simplified experiences and enhanced engagement. These initiatives reflect our belief that technology is not just an enabler but a differentiator in delivering impactful outcomes.

This year, we also took strategic calls on product launches that broadened our offerings and strengthened our portfolio. We introduced a Small Cap Fund, an Equity Savings Fund, a Banking and Financial Services Fund, and two passive funds—the Nifty Next 50 Index Fund and the Nifty 50 Index Fund. Each of these launches was carefully considered to align with investor needs and market opportunities, and they have added depth to our product suite.

Our decisions have translated into significant milestones. We achieved an AUM of ₹31,000 crore# milestone, crossed the 1 million folio mark, and celebrated the second anniversary of our flagship Bajaj Finserv Flexi Cap Fund. These achievements are not just numbers; they represent the trust and confidence that investors and distributors have placed in us.

Throughout our journey, we have remained steadfast in our philosophy of keeping investors and distributors at the heart of every decision. We have always believed in win-win partnerships, where success is shared and sustained. Distributors, in particular, play a pivotal role in the Mutual Fund industry, and I strongly believe in the power of Distributor Alpha.

My view on their value add is threefold:

Preventing investor self-goals – Distributors help investors stay invested during volatile times or exit when the timing is right, thereby protecting long-term wealth creation.

Harnessing the power of conviction – A distributor's recommendation carries more weight than any brochure or digital campaign. Clients invest in conviction, not just products, and distributors embody that conviction.

Looking ahead before the investor – Distributors anticipate market shifts and guide investors proactively, ensuring that portfolios remain aligned with future opportunities.

As we are about to close this year, I hope it has been one of growth and achievement for all of you. The industry has scaled new heights, and together we have contributed to this collective success.

Looking ahead, I remain optimistic about the potential opportunities that lie before us. The Mutual Fund industry is poised for continued expansion, and Bajaj Finserv AMC is committed to playing a meaningful role in this journey. Our focus will remain on innovation, differentiation, and partnership. We will continue to build products and propositions that serve investor needs, empower distributors, and leverage technology to deliver outperformance in the long term.

On a personal note, I wish each of you the very best for the upcoming year. May it bring health, prosperity, and continued success. Let us stay true to the spirit of investing-disciplined, forward-looking, and resilient.

Stay healthy and keep investing!

Uncelebrated Rise and Underappreciated Resilience

As I write this, the Nifty 50 Index is valued at 26202, up more than 10% calendar year till date. We are on our way to experience the 10th consecutive positive calendar year for the equity markets! The index made a new all-time high just a few weeks back. However, this time there was no great celebration or cheer even in the newsrooms of top business channels. The index didn't sustain for long at the new high but its hovering near it. On the other side, in the fixed income markets, the 10 year GSec yield is at 6.49% down from 6.80% at the beginning of the calendar year 2025. With all the worries on the currency, (which depreciated from 85/USD in January 2025 to 90/USD today), negative surprise on tariffs, conflicts at the border, both equity and fixed income markets have displayed resilience.

These moves are extremely significant as they demonstrate the strength of the Indian economy, robust growth of Indian businesses and the maturity of Indian markets. The developments in 2025 make us quite optimistic about market gains in 2026. India is likely to experience faster economic growth in 2026. Earnings momentum is also likely to accelerate. Consumption will be the main driver of the economy.

Nifty 50 Index continues to trade below intrinsic value as per our internal calculations. The domestic macroeconomic conditions are gaining strength, supported by government initiatives, benign crude prices and lower inflation. As a result, the domestic consumption demand is improving, that will drive in GDP growth and corporate profitability. A potential trade agreement with the US and EU could unlock export opportunities. Meanwhile, lower interest rates and rising capacity utilisation are paving the way for a revival in private capex. Despite global uncertainties, with the combination of robust earnings momentum, resilient domestic demand, and bottom-up opportunities across large, mid, and small caps, we believe the markets are poised for an upcycle from here on.

Looking ahead into CY 2026, earnings growth and margin trends are expected to improve, though differentiated across sectors. For FY26, we anticipate Nifty earnings growth to be nearing the double digits, and accelerating to the mid-high teens in FY27, reflecting both macro stability and selective sectoral momentum. Within banking and financial services, we see continued resilience. Consumer-facing NBFCs are likely to benefit from improving credit demand and household leverage, supporting both top-line growth and relative stable margins. Capital markets businesses, having underperformed recently, are poised to see earnings recovery as volumes pick up.

The consumption space is showing early signs of broad-based potential. FMCG, quick commerce, home improvement segments, and consumer electronics that have lagged in recent years are now positioned for recovery. With improving demand, these companies should witness margin expansion as well. Companies with scalable operations, strong cash flows, and healthy ROEs are positioned.

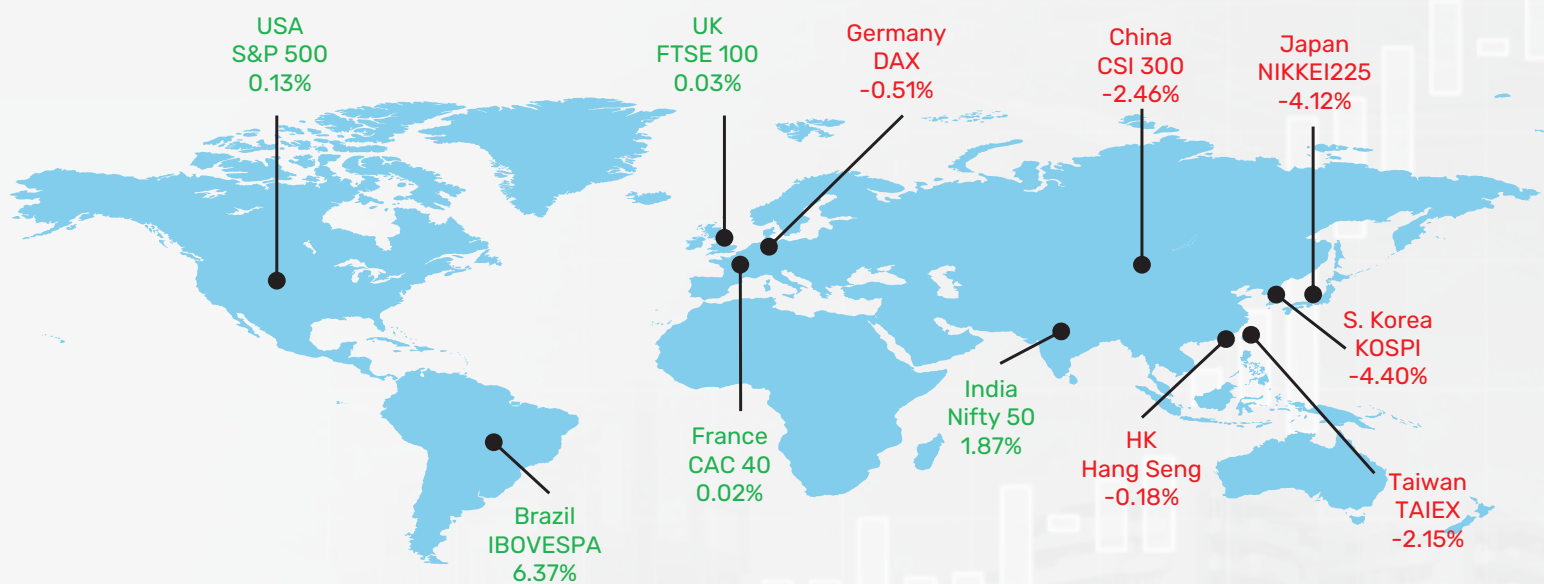

Select pharmaceuticals and Contract Development and Manufacturing Organization (CDMO) companies continue to enjoy robust growth visibility. Margins remain robust due to operational leverage and pricing power in niche segments, while expansion in regulated markets supports sustainable earnings growth. Across sectors, there is meaningful dispersion in potential growth and margins trends. A bottom-up selection of high-quality businesses, rather than purely sectoral allocations, remains key.

On the fixed income front, there is a high probability of US federal Reserve cutting rates in December meeting. The US economy is experiencing slow employment growth and that warrants a rate cut. However, rising inflation, mainly due to high tariffs introduced this year, has kept the member of the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) divided. In India, the MPC delivered exactly what the bond market could have hoped for – a 25 bps rate cut, Foreign Exchange swap (USD 5 Bn) and Open Market Operations (OMO) of ₹1 trillion scheduled to be completed within this month. With inflation forecasted downwards, including core now projected below 4%, the Governor's statement has opened space for at least some discussion on further easing. The unanimous decision underscores confidence in the disinflation trend and signals a supportive stance for growth. Moreover, front-loading OMOs creates the possibility of additional liquidity measures in the next quarter.

We look towards 2026 with optimism and positivity. Happy New Year.

Global Indices – 1M Returns (local currency)

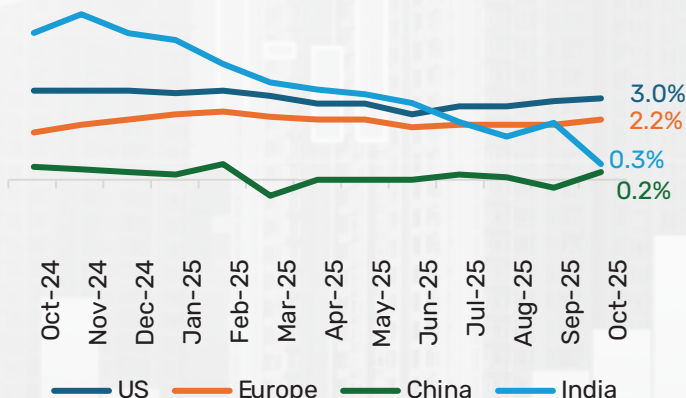

Past performance may or may not be sustained in the future.

Source: Bloomberg. Data as on 30th November 2025.

- Global equity markets delivered a muted month overall, with gains limited to select regions while several major Asian indices declined amid cautious investor sentiment.
- The US, UK and France were marginally positive, reflecting stable macro conditions, while Brazil outperformed on favorable commodity momentum and improving domestic fundamentals.
- India posted comparatively steady gains, supported by firm macro data, resilient domestic demand and continued foreign and domestic inflows, helping it outperform most Asian peers.
- Asia saw broad weakness, driven by over US$10 billion in foreign outflows, fading U.S. rate-cut expectations, and valuation pressure in tech-heavy markets

Global Central Bank Rates

Source: Bloomberg. Data as on 30th November 2025.

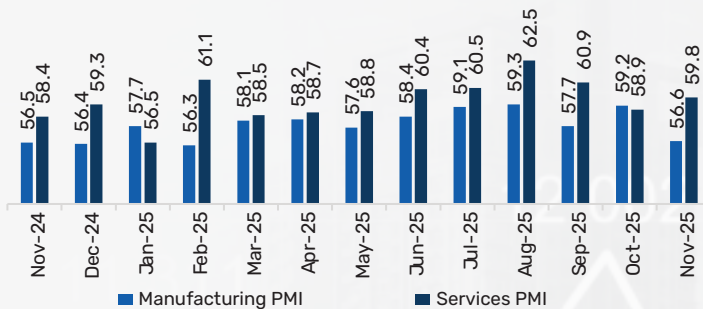

- Global inflation has continued to ease across major economies, with the US holding near 3%, the euro area stabilizing around 2%,
- China remaining in low-inflation territory, and India's outlook softening further, reflecting a broadly benign global backdrop. Policy rates mirror this trend, as the Fed and ECB maintain accommodative stances while China keeps supportive settings.
- In India, the RBI's December MPC (Monetary Policy Committee) cut the repo rate by 25 bps to 5.25%, citing easing inflation and firmer growth expectations.

Indian Economy

- ▶ India's ~8% growth remains resilient, driven by robust services activity, solid consumption, and steady investments.
- ▶ Nominal GDP softness (~8.7%) is stabilizing, with easing inflation and policy measures expected to lift revenues and corporate earnings ahead.
- ▶ Private consumption is a clear bright spot, supported by festive demand and moderating inflation.

India Manufacturing and Services PMI

Brent's mild uptick from its $63.2/barrel level reflects a supply-risk premium after Ukrainian strikes on Russian oil assets, despite soft demand.

The USD/INR's rise above 88.8 was driven by foreign outflows and broad dollar strength, with global risk aversion outweighing India's solid macro backdrop.

Gold's sharp rise- up over 60% YoY reflects investors rotating into safe-haven assets amid expectations of global rate cuts, a softer dollar and continued central-bank buying.

India's manufacturing PMI eased to 56.6 in Nov 2025—still well above the long-run average of 54.2 despite being the slowest since February. Output, new orders (especially exports), and jobs expanded more mildly. Cost and price pressures softened, inventories were mixed, and optimism remained positive even as the degree of optimism fell.

India's services PMI rose to 59.8 in Nov 2025 (above its long-run average), supported by stronger new orders. International sales grew more slowly, and employment increased moderately. Input cost inflation eased to its lowest since Aug 2020 and remained below its long-run average. Output prices inched up, while business sentiment weakened.

Sector Performance (1 Month)

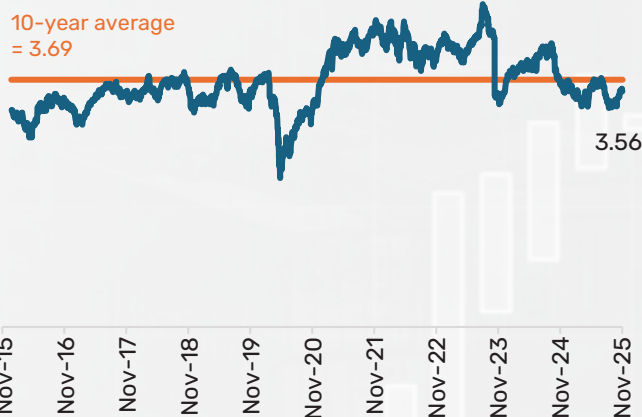

Past performance may or may not be sustained in future.
Source: Bloomberg, ICRA MFI360; Data as on 30th November 2025.

- The sectoral performance over the past month reflects a clear preference for cyclicals and rate-sensitive segments.
- Nifty IT led gains as the rupee's depreciation improved earnings prospects for exporters.
- PSU Banks and Nifty Bank advanced on stronger credit growth and improved asset quality.
- Pharma rose on steady US generics demand, while Auto benefited from resilient festive-season sales.
- Financial Services saw moderate gains amid stable lending momentum and Infrastructure remained subdued.
- On the downside, FMCG and Capital Goods softened as investors rotated away from defensives; Energy, Realty, and Utilities.

10-Years Nifty PE

10-Years Nifty PB

Source: Bloomberg. Data as on 30th November 2025.

- ▶ Nifty's P/E (Price to Earnings ratio) and P/B (Price to Book Value) ratios are well below their long-term averages, while the dividend yield (1.28%) is above its 10-year mean of 1.27%, providing better income support.
- ▶ Valuation compression has eased, reducing downside risk and making markets more balanced.
- ▶ With relatively stable valuations, future returns hinge on earnings growth and sectoral leadership shifts rather than multiple expansion.

Equity Outlook

Global conditions heading into December 2025 point to a cautiously improving environment. Growth indicators across major economies have stabilized, inflation has cooled enough for central banks to turn accommodative, and expectations of a U.S. Federal Reserve rate cut this month have supported global risk sentiment. At the same time, equity valuations in the U.S. have reached unusually elevated levels, with the Shiller CAPE (Cyclically-Adjusted PE) ratio recording its second-highest reading in more than a century. A large portion of recent U.S. market gains is concentrated in a small cluster of AI-focused stocks, a pattern that resembles earlier periods of concentrated leadership which eventually led to subdued long-term returns. The U.S. Dollar Index has been steadily losing momentum since its 2023 peak. Periods of structural dollar softness like this typically ease global financial conditions, improve risk appetite and create a more favorable macro backdrop for emerging-market and Asian equities.

India approaches this evolving global landscape from a position of macroeconomic stability. The RBI's recent rate cut and liquidity infusion mark the onset of an easier policy cycle, aligning well with benign inflation and robust GDP growth. Domestic demand remains resilient, corporate capex intentions are gaining traction and structural drivers – including digital infrastructure, tax rationalization, public investment and a steadily formalizing labor market – continue to support medium-term growth. Risks remain concentrated in the external sector: currency fluctuations and evolving global tariff regimes could intermittently pressure the trade balance.

Even so, Indian equities have entered December on firmer footing. The Nifty hit an all-time high last month, buoyed by a robust earnings season where NIFTY500 profits rose 15% – the best quarter since Q3FY24 – alongside 7% revenue growth and a favorable cost backdrop. Ex-BFSI and commodities, revenues grew nearly 12%, highlighting sustained momentum in manufacturing, auto ancillaries and discretionary sectors. Adding to these developments, the setup remains constructive looking ahead. The complete impact of the recent GST rate cuts may begin reflecting in Q3FY26 corporate balance sheets, providing potential margin uplift across several industries. Seasonal tendencies such as the Santa Rally (observed from 25th December to 2nd January), with historically robust performances in small caps, mid caps, consumer durables, financials and utilities, also provide a short-term tailwind as markets move into the year-end period.

Our portfolio remains tilted toward domestic cyclicals and high-quality businesses with limited export dependence and robust earnings visibility. Large-cap and flexi-cap strategies continue to look favourable given supportive valuations and steady earnings prospects, while mid and small cap allocations are held selectively with an emphasis on quality. Multi asset allocation, balanced advantage and arbitrage strategies further strengthen diversification. Sectors like consumption appear well-positioned in the current supportive economic environment, benefiting from demand tailwinds and policy measures. Healthcare also remains well-positioned, aided by easing pressure from U.S. tariff dynamics, greater diversification away from the U.S. market and a favorable mix shift from generics toward patented and specialty products in our portfolio.

Banking System Liquidity (in ₹ Bn)

Source: Bloomberg. Data as on 5th December 2025.

- ▶ Banking system liquidity remained in surplus during the week, with the average surplus higher than the previous week's level.
- ▶ The RBI reiterated its commitment to maintaining adequate liquidity without targeting a specific surplus level of around 1% of net demand and time liabilities (NDTL).
- ▶ To support liquidity, the central bank announced measures including open market operations (OMOs) and a forex buy-sell swap.
- ▶ OMOs will involve purchasing Government of India securities worth Rs. 1 lakh crore in two tranches of Rs. 50,000 crore each on Dec 11 and Dec 18, 2025.
- ▶ Additionally, a USD/INR buy-sell swap of $5 billion for three years is scheduled for Dec 16, 2025.

DEBT OUTLOOK

Policy making gets complicated when the dials are all pushed to extremes. The rupee is flirting with record lows, inflation has collapsed to historic lows, growth remains impressively resilient, and geopolitics is as fraught as ever. Markets, true to form, had a divided opinion on possible outcomes for MPC meet in December 2025.

The MPC delivered exactly what the bond market could have hoped for which is a 25bps rate cut, FX (Foreign Exchange) swap (USD 5 Bn) and OMOs (Open Market Operations) (₹1 trillion) scheduled to be completed within this month. Inflation is now forecasted downwards, including core now projected below 4%. The Governor's statement has not closed the possibility of further easing. This unanimous decision underscores confidence in the disinflation trend and signals a supportive stance for growth. Moreover, front-loading of OMOs creates the possibility of additional liquidity measures in the next quarter.

We pointed out in last month's outlook that the growth-inflation matrix remains a key input for policy decisions. However, our attention is now on the factors like INR movement, Central Bank's FX market operations and their influence on interbank liquidity. A soft CPI print alone is unlikely to alter this focus. A 25-bps policy rate cut is also not a major driver for long-term yields, which are more sensitive to factors mentioned above.

Why Policy Rate Cuts Have Limited Impact on Long-End Yields

We know determination of Long-term yield is driven primarily by macro fundamentals and structural risks, not by cuts alone. We have witnessed this across G10 economies this year. Rate cuts have had limited effect on long-end yields due to different factors like growth/inflation expectations, fiscal supply and central bank framework changes.

The recent U.S. experience underscores this disconnect despite aggressive Fed easing, 10-year Treasury yields moved higher as markets repriced macro fundamentals. Germany's fiscal expansion and elevated issuance pushed the yields up, even as the ECB cut rates—highlighting the power of supply-side pressures. Japan's removal of Yield Curve Control shows that once structural constraints break, long-end yields adjust freely, reflecting risk premia and global repricing. Now in India similar trend was witnessed after 50 bps rate cut June along with liquidity infusion. And even after latest rate cut in Dec 25, where yields have spiked up.

Going forward, the market's focus will squarely be on following evolving dynamics

- ▶ Global rate-cut cycles are nearing an end, so the big duration trades are behind us. Carry and roll-down will matter more than chasing convexity.
- ▶ In India, RBI hasn't shut the door on cuts, but the bar is high. With CPI forecast for first half FY27 at 4%, the scope for undershoot is limited.
- ▶ Liquidity support may come via swaps, not just OMOs, so we can't assume large outright bond purchases.
- ▶ Finally, Supply pressure matters with higher SDL issuance in Q4. That means spreads could continue to remain high.

Overall, spreads remain attractive for long term buyers, but there are no clear catalysts for compression at this stage.

HOW TO READ A MUTUAL FUND FACTSHEET?

-  Fund Manager: An employee of an asset management company such as mutual fund or life insurer, who manages investments of the scheme. He is usually part of a larger team of fund managers and research analysts.
-  Application amount for fresh subscription: This is the minimum investment amount for a new investor entering in a mutual fund scheme.
-  Minimum Additional Amount: This is the minimum investment amount for an existing investor in a mutual fund scheme.
-  SIP: Systematic Investment Plan (SIP) is an organized way of investing in Mutual Fund. It helps in building long term wealth through a disciplined approach of investing at pre-defined intervals ranging from daily, weekly, monthly and quarterly.
-  NAV: Net asset value or NAV is the total asset value per unit of the mutual fund after deducting all related and permissible expenses. The NAV is calculated at the end of every business day and it is the value at which investors enter or exit the mutual fund.
-  Benchmark: A group of securities, typically a market index, whose performance is used as a standard or benchmark to assess the performance of mutual funds and other investments. A few common benchmarks are the Nifty, Sensex, BSE 200, BSE 500, and 10-year Gsec.
-  Entry Load: To compensate the distributor or agent, a mutual fund may impose a sales charge or load at the time of entry and/or exit. A mutual fund's entry load is charged when an investor buys its units. Note: SEBI Master Circular for Mutual Funds dated May 19, 2023 has abolished entry load and mandated that the upfront commission to distributors will be paid by the investor directly to the distributor, based on his assessment of various factors including the service rendered by the distributor.
-  Exit load: When an investor redeems mutual fund units, exit load is charged. At redemption, the exit load is subtracted from the current NAV.
-  Standard deviation: Standard deviation is statistical measure of the range of an investment's performance. When a mutual fund has a high standard deviation, it means its range of performance is wide, implying greater volatility.
-  Sharpe Ratio: The Sharpe Ratio is measure of risk-adjusted returns. It is calculated using standard deviation and excess return to determine reward per unit of risk.
-  Beta: Beta is a measure of an investment's volatility vis-à-vis the market. A beta of greater than 1 implies that the security's price will be more volatile than the market. Beta of less than 1 means that the security will be less volatile than the market.
-  Jensen's Alpha: Measures a fund's excess return compared to its expected return based on market risk (Beta), indicating the manager's skill.
-  Information Ratio: Evaluates the risk-adjusted return of a fund compared to a benchmark, highlighting consistency in outperformance.
-  AUM: Assets under management or AUM refers to the recent cumulative market value of investments managed by Mutual fund or any investment firm.
-  Holdings: The holdings or the portfolio is a mutual fund's latest or updated reported statement of investments/securities. These are usually displayed in terms of percentage to net assets or the rupee value or both. The objective is to give investors an idea of where their money is being invested by the fund manager.
-  Nature of Scheme: The investment objective and underlying investments determine the nature of the mutual fund scheme. For instance, a mutual fund that aims at generating capital appreciation by investing in stock markets is an equity fund or growth fund. Likewise, a mutual fund that aims at capital preservation by investing in debt markets is a debt fund or income fund. Each of these categories may have sub-categories.
-  Rating Profile: Mutual funds invest in securities after evaluating their credit worthiness as disclosed by the ratings. A depiction of the mutual fund in various investments based on their rating becomes the rating profile of the fund. Typically, this is a feature of debt funds.
-  Macaulay Duration: Macaulay Duration is a measure of how long it takes for the price of a bond to be repaid by its internal cash flows. Macaulay Duration is used only for an instrument with fixed cash flows. Modified Duration as the name suggests, is a modified version of the Macaulay model that accounts for changing interest rates.
-  Modified Duration: Modified duration is the price sensitivity and the percentage change in price for a unit change in yield.
-  Average Maturity: A bond's maturity date indicates the specific future date on which an investor gets his principal back i.e. the borrowed amount is repaid in full. Average Maturity is the weighted average of all the current maturities of the debt securities held in the fund.
-  Yield to Maturity: The yield to maturity or the YTM is the rate of return anticipated on a bond if held until maturity. It is expressed as an annual rate. The YTM factors in the bond's current market price, par value, couple interest rate and time to maturity.
-  IDCW: Income Distribution cum Capital Withdrawal option or IDCW can be distributed out of investors' capital (Equalization Reserve), which is part of the sale price that represents realized gains.
-  P/E Ratio: The price-earnings ratio (P/E Ratio) is the relation between a company's share price and earnings per share (EPS). It denotes what the market is willing to pay for a company's profits.
-  P/BV: The price-to-book ratio compares a company's market value to its book value. The market value of a company is its share price multiplied by the number of outstanding shares.
-  IDCW Yield: The dividend yield is a financial ratio that shows how much a company pays out in dividends each year relative to its stock price.
-  Interest Rate Swap (IRS): An interest rate swap is a forward contract in which one stream of future interest payments is exchanged for another based on a specified principal amount. Interest rate swaps usually involve the exchange of a fixed interest rate for a floating rate, or vice versa, to reduce or increase exposure to fluctuations in interest rates.
-  Potential Risk Class (PRC) Matrix: In reference to SEBI Master Circular for Mutual Funds dated May 19, 2023, all debt schemes will be classified in terms of a Potential Risk Class matrix which consists of parameters based on maximum interest rate risk (measured by Macaulay Duration (MD) of the scheme) and maximum credit risk (measured by Credit Risk Value (CRV) of the scheme).

Bajaj Finserv Large Cap Fund reflects a balanced yet growth-oriented approach with a strong emphasis on market leaders across diversified sectors. The core thesis focuses on long-term sustainability and market dominance.

Blue-chip stock allocation

Preference for established market players with potential for returns in long term, even in volatile conditions.

Pharmaceuticals & insurance exposure

Highlights belief in healthcare and financial protection as critical for navigating uncertainties and sectoral resilience.

Consumer staples & telecom presence

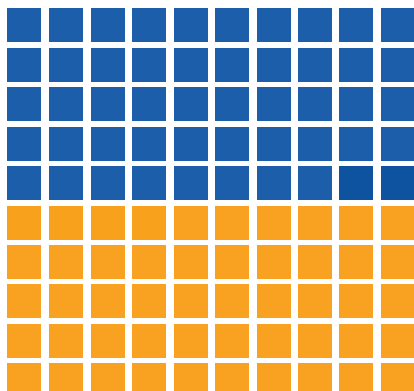

Indicates belief in steady cash flow generation due to recurring demand, regardless of market disruptions.

Digital economy exposure

Reflects optimism in India's tech-driven transformation and future growth potential.

The fund's portfolio is strategically constructed on the back of high conviction investment ideas. Furthermore, the overall philosophy revolves around balancing defensive plays with selective growth opportunities, underpinned by quality, market leadership, and sectoral resilience. The sequence, relationship and nature of trends in these assets helps understand and anticipate market movements driven by psychological factors, leading to more informed and effective investment decisions. By integrating behavioural insights with fundamental analysis, our model offers a comprehensive approach to asset allocation, optimizing returns while managing risks.

Active Share measures the percentage of stock holdings, based on weights (% to NAV) in a investment manager's portfolio that differs from the benchmark index.

- A low Active Share score is said to indicate that a portfolio manager is closely replicating the benchmark index and engaging in a passive investment strategy.
- A high Active Share score is said to indicate that a fund's holdings differ from the benchmark index and that the portfolio manager is actively managing it.

Combining fundamental and behavioural finance principles provides a key advantage in managing investments. Our proprietary asset allocation model at Bajaj Finserv AMC is based on those two elements namely: fundamental analysis and behavioural insights. It ensures that our Balanced Advantage Fund is well-positioned to navigate market complexities and deliver long-term value to our investors. By understanding the interplay of various market factors, we can make informed decisions that align with our investors' goals, fostering financial growth and stability. This unique approach helps us determine the optimal asset allocation between equity and debt, providing an edge for our investors.

Fundamental Indicator:

Our fundamental indicator focuses on the Nifty 50 Index, analysing its ideal earnings and valuations. Ideal earnings are forward-looking estimations, while ideal valuations are comparative, offering a realistic assessment rather than absolute measures. This robust analysis forms the backbone of our model, ensuring a sound foundation for asset allocation.

Behavioural Indicator:

The differentiation in our model lies in the behavioural indicator, which measures behavioural and sentimental trends in the market by monitoring four key factors: currencies, commodities, bonds, and equities. Let's explore how each of these factors contributes to our asset allocation strategy:

- Reflect risk appetite.
- Risky currencies signal optimism; safe havens show caution.
- Helps predict capital flows into Indian equities.

- Rising prices = strong economy; precious metals up = uncertainty.
- Guides sector allocation (energy, industrials) based on economic cycles.

- Yield spreads & curves show investor sentiment and liquidity.
- Narrowing spreads = confidence, steep curve = growth expectations.
- Guides equity investment in growth sectors.

- Large-cap focus = stability; small/mid-caps = higher risk.
- Sector rotations signal where investors see growth or safety.
- Informs strategic asset allocation.

The sequence, relationship and nature of trends in these assets helps understand and anticipate market movements driven by psychological factors, leading to more informed and effective investment decisions. By integrating behavioural insights with fundamental analysis, our model offers a comprehensive approach to asset allocation, optimizing returns while managing risks.

Bajaj Finserv Nifty 50 Index Fund

An open ended scheme tracking Nifty 50 Index

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

An open ended index linked growth scheme seeking to replicate the returns of the Nifty 50 through investments in a basket of stocks drawn from the constituents of the Nifty 50 index. The objective of the Scheme is to invest in companies whose securities are included in the Nifty 50 Index and subject to tracking errors, to endeavor to achieve the returns of the Nifty 50 Index. This would be done by investing in all the stocks comprising Nifty 50 in approximately the same weightage that they represent in Nifty 50. The Scheme will not seek to outperform the Nifty 50 or to underperform it. The objective is that the performance of the NAV of the Scheme should track the performance of the Nifty 50 over the same period. However, there is no assurance that the investment objective of the Scheme will be achieved.

Bajaj Finserv Nifty Next 50 Index Fund

An open ended scheme tracking Nifty Next 50 Index

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

An open ended index linked growth scheme seeking to replicate the returns of the Nifty Next 50 through investments in a basket of stocks drawn from the constituents of the Nifty Next 50 index. The objective of the Scheme is to invest in companies whose securities are included in the Nifty Next 50 Index and subject to tracking errors, to endeavor to achieve the returns of the Nifty Next 50 Index. This would be done by investing in all the stocks comprising Nifty Next 50 in approximately the same weightage that they represent in Nifty Next 50. The Scheme will not seek to outperform the Nifty Next 50 or to underperform it. The objective is that the performance of the NAV of the Scheme should track the performance of the Nifty Next 50 over the same period. However, there is no assurance that the investment objective of the Scheme will be achieved.
